Welcome to the Mary Washington community!

At Mary Wash, relationships are the hallmark of the student experience. You and your student are joining a remarkable community that aspires to support thriving students along their journey to graduation, a life-changing transition that will build on the legacy of this great institution.

At UMW, faculty members teach, advise, and engage students in research across the academic disciplines; staff advisors mentor students and coach varsity athletic teams and sport clubs; and peers advocate for one another in and outside of class. You – mothers, fathers, siblings, aunts and uncles, guardians, and grandparents – are also an integral part of your college student's support system.

Family Essentials provides basic information about the undergraduate student's academic and co-curricular experiences. When your student calls you for support, we encourage you to refer them to the many resources described in this booklet, including the Academic Services Office and the Talley Center for Counseling Services. UMW also has a website for parents and other family members: umw.edu/parents.

We are ready to answer any questions or concerns you may have throughout the entire year. We also welcome your insights into improving the student experience. We look forward to working with you to ensure a successful journey for your Mary Washington Eagle.

Sincerely,

New Student Arrival & Welcome

New Student Arrival and Welcome begins on August 17 for on and off-campus students and encompasses several programs to make the student transition to the University of Mary Washington seamless.

After students and families say goodbye to one another on their designated move-in day, students will continue several days of the new student welcome experience. Our newest Eagles can expect to be introduced to the UMW campus with a variety of programs, social events, and opportunities for faculty and staff connection. They will learn what it means to be an Eagle, find out how to navigate campus, and, of course, have a lot of fun!

For more information visit orientation.umw.edu.

- Keep your vehicle on paved areas only, unless UMW staff direct you to do otherwise. When your vehicle is empty, move it to designated long-term parking so others may move closer.
- August can be very warm. Dress appropriately.

Academics at UMW

University of Mary Washington students deeply value their academic experience. Upon starting at UMW, first-year students begin exploring numerous and varied course offerings across the liberal arts curriculum. By graduation, they embrace their disciplinary commitments as a key component of their identity.

New students will launch their first year at UMW by taking the following steps:

- Request that official copies of transcripts of any college transfer credit and official results of Advanced Placement (AP), International Baccalaureate (IB), Cambridge, College Level Examination Program (CLEP), and dual enrollment classes be sent to the UMW Office of the Registrar immediately. The UMW CEEB code is 5398.
- Check the Student and Financial Aid section in the Eagle Gateway Portal on myUMW to review student records for any AP, IB, Cambridge, CLEP, dual enrollment, or college transfer credits that have been received and processed by the Office of the Registrar. If exam scores are missing, students should bring copies of test results to their June orientation session and to their individual advising appointment in July. Student Success Coordinators and faculty will be on hand to assist students throughout the registration process.

First-Year Students:

Prior to orientation, all students should complete their first-year student questionnaire, which is sent by email. It is used to enroll your student in a full schedule of classes including the First-Year Seminar. In July students will meet one-on-one with an academic advisor to review their schedule and discuss any modifications needed. Your student will also learn about UMW's general education program and how to use the online course registration system.

Transfer Students:

After paying a deposit, your student should call Academic Services at 540-654-1010 to schedule an appointment—in person, by phone, or by Zoom—with an academic advisor. The advisor will prepare your student to register for the first semester and help them understand UMW degree requirements and academic expectations.

Who is my student's academic advisor?

First-Year Students: Faculty from across campus will meet with your student in July to discuss their fall schedule. Many of these faculty members are the First-Year Seminar instructors who will serve as students' academic advisors through the first year at UMW.

Transfer Students: An academic advisor from the Office of Academic Services will advise your transfer student as they transition to Mary Washington. Until your student declares a major, they will remain assigned to that academic advisor but will be encouraged to consult the department chair of the major in which they are interested. Once a student declares a major, they are assigned to a faculty advisor in that academic department.

What courses are incoming students encouraged to take?

First-Year Students: Our staff will have preregistered your student for a full schedule based on the interests identified in the first-year student questionnaire. These courses will include general education courses, courses that might fit into an intended major and electives. All the courses taken in the first semester will count toward graduation. The New Student Guide, hosted on the Academic Services website, offers some advice. We recommend that students register for no more than 16 credits during their first semester, keeping in mind that 12 credit hours is considered full-time. The Undergraduate Academic Catalog and your student's academic advisor are the best resources for your student.

Transfer Students: Transfer students will meet with academic advisors from the Office of Academic Services to plan and begin registering for courses. Following this meeting, transfer students often begin to work with the academic department of their major interest to ensure proper course selection and timely graduation.

When may students declare their majors? May students change their majors if needed at a later time? What about minors?

First-Year Students: When they enter the University, new students are undeclared. Once a student completes the first year of study at UMW, they may declare a major by completing the Major Declaration Form. Students may always change their minds about the major they select. Please encourage your student to speak with their academic advisor before declaring or changing a previously declared major.

Transfer Students: Transfer students may declare a major after 28 earned credits—this includes work that is transferred. Many transfer students declare their major as soon as they arrive at Mary Washington while others will continue to explore majors for a semester or two. Students may always change their mind about the major they select and are encouraged to consult their academic advisors and academic department chairs as well as the Undergraduate Academic Catalogue about major options and selection.

Important
Tip

Students should be encouraged to take courses and pursue a major in which they are interested. Your student will work directly with a UMW faculty advisor to identify which courses are needed for general education and degree requirements. If your student has questions about academic challenges or course selection, please direct them to their academic advisor or Academic Services. We are here to help.

Remind your student to schedule their academic advising meeting in July. Your student will have time in August to make schedule adjustments if needed.

Help! My student is struggling. Where on campus do I send my student for assistance with academic issues?

First and foremost, your student should always think of their academic advisor and professors as valuable resources. Every professor has office hours where students may ask for assistance. These hours are listed on the course syllabus. Many options for peer tutoring and peer academic consulting (PAC) are available through the Office of Academic Services in Lee Hall. The Writing Center offers help with writing projects for your student's classes and beyond, the Speaking Center offers help with communication skills through videotaped practice presentations and feedback, and the Digital Knowledge Center provides assistance with a wide range of digital projects and assignments. These centers are in the Hurley Convergence Center.

When in doubt, please refer students to their resident assistant (RA) or to the Office of Academic Services (540-654-1010) in Lee Hall. These are great places for students to start if they have questions or need assistance.

I heard that students may take a class pass/fail. What does that mean?

Classes taken pass/fail earn credits when the student passes, but they affect the student's GPA only if the student fails. All general education classes and major or minor requirements must be taken for a standard grade. The exceptions are some experiential learning classes. Students may take as many as eight pass/fail classes, but may take only one per semester. The deadline to switch a class from graded to pass/fail is the end of the ninth week of the semester.

What can my student do if they need to get out of a class once the semester starts?

There are three scenarios during a full semester, depending on the point in the semester:

During the first three weeks, students may drop a class and it is removed completely from their official academic record.

The fourth through the ninth week—the same as the timeline to switch a class to pass/fail—students may withdraw from an individual class. In this case, the student receives a grade of W on their transcript. This does not affect the student's GPA.

Students receiving financial aid should check with the Office of Financial Aid to determine if the dropping of a class will have any effect on financial eligibility.

Until the last day of classes, a student may withdraw from the University. In this case, the student receives a grade of W for every course and there is no effect on the student's GPA.

See the detailed academic calendar for Fall 2022 schedule.

What if my student needs to miss class due to illness?

If the student misses less than a week of classes, they should work with their instructors to make up missed assignments. If the student must be absent for more than a full week of classes, the student or parent may call the Office of Academic Services at 540-654-1010, and that office will contact the instructors as a courtesy. There are no “excused” absences at UMW. Make-up work is entirely at the discretion of the instructor and may require documentation.

Study skills and tutoring resources: The Office of Academic Services offers seminars and a series of workshops on topics such as note taking, time management, textbook reading, and other important study concerns. It also coordinates peer tutoring and peer academic consulting (PAC) for students who need a refresher or extra help in their courses. Enter "Academic Services" in the UMW search engine or visit the tutoring website for more information.

What if my student wants to study abroad?

Visit the Center for International Education website for information.

What if I need to speak with someone about my student’s academics?

In compliance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA), the Office of Academic Services will not and cannot discuss the details of your student’s academic standing without their written consent. This includes academic information including but not limited to mid-semester and final grade reports, academic enrollment and withdrawal, academic probation or suspension status and information concerning student conduct/disciplinary actions and their consequences including but not limited to fines and sanctions. Your student may choose to grant designated access of this information by signing the Student Consent for Release of Information form maintained by the Office of Academic Services. It is mandated that this form be signed in person and in the presence of an Academic Services staff member.

The Office of Academic Services will not and cannot discuss the details of your student’s academic standing without their written consent.

Student Life

Student life at the University of Mary Washington is vibrant and full of opportunities for engagement. At UMW, student experiences outside the classroom affirm educational research showing that co-curricular involvement correlates with a better, more satisfying college experience and with a higher likelihood of graduation. UMW offers hundreds of opportunities for involvement, including sports clubs, student government, social justice activism, and varsity athletics.

At the start of every academic year, we offer Club Carnival, where student organizations seek new members. We recognize that sometimes it is hard for a new student to approach clubs. If that is the case with your student, please encourage them to contact the Office of Student Activities and Engagement (SAE), where professionals can help them connect with co-curricular opportunities.

Student Activities and Engagement (SAE)

With more than 150 student organizations ranging from athletic clubs to video gaming meetings, students have an opportunity to engage with a wide array of extracurricular programs—more than 2,500 events and meetings happened at UMW last year alone. Getting involved in these activities is easy; the Office of Student Activities and Engagement (SAE) organizes club fairs, online portals, and leadership training so that your student can get involved here on campus.

University Dining and Meal Plans

Where may I get meal plan information?

Please pick up a meal plan brochure at any campus dining location or go to UMW.SodexoMyWay.com. Please note that all first-year residential students are required to purchase the Eagle Dining Plan. Off-campus students may purchase any available meal plans.

How do I purchase a meal plan?

First-year residential students will have meal plans assigned. They don't need to do anything. Off-campus students can purchase a meal plan through the Off-Campus Student Meal Plan application on the housing portal.

Can meal plans be used off campus with UMW's merchant partners?

No, meal plans may be used only in University Dining facilities. However, merchant partners do accept EagleOne payments. EagleOne is a debit account that you can set up for your student. Contact the EagleOne Card Center for more information.

What are the available dining options?

Restaurants at the Top of the University Center – The Top of the UC restaurants offer American-style comfort foods, “build ’em your way” burritos and Mexican dishes, complete allergen-free and vegan meals, plus burgers, pasta, pizza, salads, and desserts in an all-you-care-to-eat environment. Check out the Guide to Dining on the dining website for more details.

Retail Dining Shoppes – There are several fast-casual dining shoppes on campus where students can grab quick meals or snacks, including Vocelli Pizza, Katora Cafe, Hissho Sushi, Mein Bowl, Panera Bread, and the Simply To Go Market. Using Grubhub, students can also place and pay for orders in advance from every location except the market.

Are special diet options available?

Yes! The Top of the UC offers vegan, plant-based, and gluten-free options. Simple Servings offers flavorful meals prepared without the most common allergens, which account for 90% of all food allergy reactions. If your student needs to follow a special diet contact Rose Benedict, University Dining Marketing Manager, at 540-654-2169 or Dining@UMW.edu for assistance.

What safety protocols are used in University Dining?

Every member of the staff has received extensive training in food safety, and protocols are in place enabling quick and easy adaptations to changing COVID-19 circumstances. Our style of service and safety measures will follow University, CDC, and local directions and guidelines. For additional information, contact Dining@UMW.edu.

Where and how can I get menu information, ask questions, or express my views on dining?

For menus and operational hours, go to Dining Near Me on the dining website. Speak with a dining manager or supervisor if you have concerns about your food or service while you are still in the campus eatery. Contact the dining concierge, located at the entrance to Panera in the University Center. Stop by, call 540-654-2169, or email Dining@UMW.edu.

Why live on campus?

Studies show that students who live on campus tend to achieve higher GPAs and are more likely to graduate than their off-campus peers. Our Residence Life staff provides opportunities for students to get involved in activities and organizations and to develop skills in leadership, critical thinking, and conflict resolution.

The Residential Student Experience

Partnering With Families

Parents and families are an integral part of our UMW community. You are often the first people students go to when faced with a question, concern, or challenge. This section will give you the tools and knowledge necessary to support your student through their transition to on-campus living and throughout their time at Mary Washington.

Empowering Your Student

If your student is having a problem on campus, encourage them to seek help on their own. Their resident assistant (RA) or area coordinator (AC) can help guide them to the proper resources.

If you are working in conjunction with your student to help solve an issue, try to find out the details so we can better help you. There are certain things we can't disclose without your student's permission, but we are happy to walk through our policies and procedures so that you can feel comfortable knowing your student is being supported.

If your student becomes frustrated, you can help them problem solve:

- Ask them if they are just venting or if they are looking for advice/action from you.
- Ask them to outline the facts. Facts are concrete and observable, not emotions. Challenge them to look at multiple perspectives surrounding the issue.
- Who have they spoken with? If they are having difficulty connecting with their RA, have they tried contacting their area coordinator or the Residence Life office?
- What strategies have been discussed?
- What are the next steps?
- What is the timeline for follow-up?

There is an issue with my student's room. What should my student do? Maintenance issues in the residence halls are managed through UMW's Facilities Services. Students can submit a work order for routine maintenance concerns by filling out a work order at adminfinance.umw.edu/facilities/work-management. They should record the date of their work order request, the work order number, and the name of any UMW personnel they interact with.

FAQS

My student has a conflict with their roommate or someone else in the campus community. How do I help them resolve it? Your student will certainly encounter other students who come from different backgrounds, family values, and expectations. Conflicts do happen, and that's OK. Learning to resolve problems is a part of college life.

Parents are often the first to hear about roommate issues. They may get the raw, emotional account of a problem and hear things like “My roommate is the worst,” “No one here is willing to help me,” and “My roommate should have to move out.” Using some of these strategies, you can support them as they resolve conflicts on their own:

- Listen to your student and ask questions. Provide an opportunity for your student to work through the issue with appropriate challenge and support.
- Remind your student that there are many perspectives in a conflict. It is important to acknowledge that the other student may see the situation differently.
- Encourage your student to take a win-win approach rather than a win-lose approach.
- Do not contact the other student in the conflict. Leave the communication to your student with the assistance of Residence Life staff.
- Call us if you are unsure of how to help your student. Our staff will be happy to discuss University and departmental policy, procedures, philosophy, and typical courses of action for similar situations.
- Understand that Residence Life doesn't force residents to move in most instances. Except in extreme circumstances, a conflict will not result in us moving your student's roommate out of the room.
- If something illegal is going on in your student's room, report it to UMW Police. We expect UMW students to obey the law, and law enforcement officials are the best people to handle conflicts involving illegal behavior.

When a concern is beyond the scope of our expertise, students may be referred to the following resources:

- Talley Center for Counseling Services—the UMW counseling center, which provides service at no cost to all full-time students (540/654-1053).
- Title IX Coordinator and/or Advocates—handles cases of sexual misconduct and sex-based discrimination (540/654-5656).
- Office of the Dean of Student Life (540/654-1200).
- Academic Services—available to offer specific advice on major exploration, academic concerns, dropping/adding courses, and withdrawal (540/654-1010).

I am worried about my student's well-being. What should I do?

If you believe your student is experiencing an immediate threat to self or others, contact UMW Police at 540-654-1025. They will work with Residence Life staff, the Talley Center for Counseling Services, and other emergency resources to conduct a welfare check and get your student help. Police are available 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

If there is no imminent threat but you would like to share observations and have someone check on your student, contact Residence Life at 540-654-1058 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. Depending on the information you provide, we will have either an RA or a professional staff member touch base with your student and offer appropriate resources.

Often, a Residence Life staff member can resolve a concern by checking in with your student and offering a listening ear. Our staff does many of these checks every year, and RAs also conduct routine checks. Residence Life has staff on call 24/7.

I need to share some upsetting news from home. Is there someone who can support my student while I tell them?

At any time, you can contact UMW Police and request that an officer, a member of Residence Life, or a representative from the Talley Center be present with your student while you share unexpected news. It may be about a death, a divorce, significant illness, loss of a job, or something else. We can arrange for appropriate resources to help your student handle the news and ensure their well-being while at UMW.

Will I be notified if my student has an emergency? Students are asked to provide UMW with their emergency contact information. You and your student should discuss whom to list as the emergency contact. This is our only means of contacting you in the event of a serious emergency. Residence Life typically calls the emergency contact in the event of injuries, illnesses, or alcohol/drug-related incidents that result in a hospital transport. During this call, we will provide the name and phone number of the hospital and ask that you contact the hospital for more information.

Often, a Residence Life staff member can resolve a concern by checking in with your student and offering a listening ear. Our staff does many of these checks every year, and RAs also conduct routine checks. Residence Life has staff on call 24/7.

The Off-Campus Student Experience

The Office of Off-Campus Student Services is committed to helping those who live off campus have a successful experience at UMW. If you have any questions please call 540-654-1659, or check out our website at students.umw.edu/commuters.

Parking

Students who commute by car MUST purchase a commuter parking permit. Policies and designated parking lots can be found at adminfinance.umw.edu/parking/students/commuters. (Note: Students are not permitted to park in the surrounding neighborhoods. Parking in these areas is enforced by the City of Fredericksburg Parking Authority.) The campus has plenty of parking for off-campus students, but prime spots fill up quickly. Encourage your student to budget extra travel time for days when they will have to walk from a remote lot.

Between Classes

The Off-Campus Student Lounge is located on the 4th floor of the University Center and provides a location for off-campus students to study, rest, eat and recharge in between classes. It has a refrigerator, a microwave, and a television.

Official Notifications

Your student's UMW email is the channel for official and critical information from the University. It is the student's responsibility to check their UMW email regularly. All students, including off-campus students, are also given a campus mailbox in the Woodard Campus Center mailroom, which they are encouraged to check often. This is where their parking pass will be delivered at the beginning of the semester. Student mailbox numbers and combinations may be found in Banner under the Personal Information tab.

Inclement Weather

Any changes to the University schedule due to inclement weather will be communicated in the following ways: UMW website (in a red banner across the top), UMW Alerts (via text, email, and/or voice message; register at getrave.com/login/umw), information hotline at 540-654-2424, University social media accounts, and local media outlets. Closings or delays are usually announced by 6 a.m. Weather conditions vary considerably across the area. If students do not feel safe driving to campus, they should not come. It is the student's responsibility to notify professors of their absence and to catch up on missed work.

There are even meal plans available only for off-campus
students!

If students are on campus and don't feel safe driving home, they may call Off-Campus Student Services (540-654-1659) or UMW Police (540-654-1025), and we will arrange emergency overnight housing for them. Encourage your student to program these numbers into their phone now so they have them handy.

Meal Plans

Meals provide a great opportunity to bond with other people on campus, and meal plans offer a stress-free way to get food from campus vendors without paying sales tax. There are even meal plans available only for off-campus students! To enroll or browse meal plan options, visit students.umw.edu/residencelife/mealplan. Students can adjust plans starting in July and have until the end of the second week of classes to change their plan. Please note that meal plan agreements are for an entire academic year.

Getting Involved

Students are most successful in college when they are involved outside the classroom. Encourage your student to make the most of the UMW experience by joining a club, going to a study session, or getting an on-campus job. Being an off-campus student might put your student a little farther from campus, but that doesn't make them any less a part of this community. Encourage your student to check out the SAE weekly emails or log into their MyUMW account to keep updated on the on-campus activities, clubs, and events. Students may also follow the Office of Student Activities and Engagement on Twitter @SAEumw. Encourage them to participate in Club Carnival, which occurs the first Wednesday of classes each semester.

Eagles On and Off Campus

All Eagles are expected to act with integrity and honor, no matter their location. Students who live off campus should conduct themselves with the same honor and integrity as they do in the classroom. Remind your student that the UMW conduct system can hold them accountable for off-campus conduct. For more information, check out the Office of Student Conduct and Responsibility's (OSCAR) website.

Additional Resources

The Talley Center for Counseling Services, the health center, the fitness center, and the library are free to all full-time degree-seeking students. Encourage your student to take advantage of them!

Wellness & Health Services

Talley Center for Counseling Services

The Talley Center for Counseling Services offers free and confidential individual therapy and group counseling to full-time degree-seeking students. Crisis intervention, consultation, educational programming, and referral services are open to the entire UMW community.

The Talley Center is staffed by mental health professionals experienced in working with issues that confront college students—from homesickness to social concerns to depression and anxiety. The clinician can meet with your student, assess their needs, and make a recommendation for the most appropriate ongoing care, whether by scheduling regular appointments at the Talley Center or assisting them in setting up more specialized support in the community.

To make an appointment, have your student call 540-654-1053 or stop by the Talley Center either on the first floor of Lee Hall (Suite 106) or Tyler House during regular business hours. If you have questions or concerns about how to support you student, you can also contact the Talley Center directly.

Student Health Center

The Student Health Center (SHC), located in Lee Hall Room 112, is a medical clinic that focuses on the health care needs of UMW students. Our services include the evaluation and treatment of illnesses, and injuries, with onsite specialty care in reproductive and sexual health and allergy/medication injections. Physical exams, mental health and travel consultations are also available. Our board-certified physician, nurse practitioner, and nurses are familiar with and trained to address the needs of college students. An on-site pharmacy can provide students with some common medications. While health insurance is not mandatory, it is highly encouraged as it will decrease costs if the student is referred to the ER, laboratory, X-ray facility, or specialist.

The health center's hours of operations are 8 a.m. – 5 p.m., Monday – Friday. After-hours free medical advice with a nurse via Fonemed is available by calling the SHC; medical emergencies are handled by contacting a Resident Life staff member or Campus Police.

Student health information is confidential and can only be released with the student's permission. The SHC cannot issue a medical excuse; they can only verify a student's visit to the health center.

For students' convenience, health information pamphlets, free OTC pain relievers, antacids, and condoms are available at the Self Care Center, located near the SHC at Lee Hall.

Note: All entering students taking nine or more credits are required to submit a Health History, Immunizations, and Tuberculosis Screening form via the Student Portal at the SHC website. Students who do not submit their health forms to the SHC (by Aug. 1 in the fall, Jan. 3 in the spring, or May 1 for the summer session) will have a hold placed on their account. These holds mean that the student will not be able to get their grades or register for the next semester's classes. Account holds will remain until the completed forms are submitted.

What if my student is sick at school?

Encourage your student to call the SHC at 540-654-1040 for an appointment. Your student's visit to the SHC is free; a nominal fee is charged for on-site testing (i.e., strep, flu, mono, and others) and prescription medication.

What can my student do if a chronic medical condition flares up while in school?

Encourage your student to schedule a get-acquainted visit with the SHC at the beginning of the school year. This way, we can facilitate care at the health center and coordinate with a local specialist if needed. If the student's medical condition is stable and the student sees a specialist back home, they should continue to do so. Anticipating the health needs of your student before they come to school can decrease everyone's anxiety.

The Department of Campus Recreation

Campus Recreation provides members of the University community with opportunities to explore good health and exercise habits through the variety of programs available. Group fitness classes, outdoor recreation trips, intramural leagues, and sport clubs are just some of the activities Campus Rec offers to students of all backgrounds and interests.

The fitness center, located at the Eagle Village end of Campus Walk, features a resistance training area on the first floor and a cardiovascular training area on the second floor. Campus Rec's other recreational spaces include Goolrick Hall and the Campus Rec field. Goolrick Hall is home to two basketball courts, a pool, and dance studios while the Campus Rec field is home to many of our Eagle sport clubs and plays host to our outdoor intramural sports.

Office of Disability Resources

The Office of Disability Resources (ODR) works with faculty, staff, and students to provide accommodations and support, to remove barriers, and to create access for students with disabilities. To request accommodations, students should submit documentation of disability along with the Disability Resources registration form to the Office of Disability Resources for review. Once review of this information is complete, the student will be contacted via their UMW email for next steps. For the disability registration form and information on how to register, please see academics.umw.edu/disability/how-to-register. To learn more about documentation guidelines, assistive technologies, services available, and frequently asked questions, please see academics.umw.edu/disability.

If the student needs accommodations in their residence hall, such as a wheelchair-accessible room or visual fire alarm, encourage them to complete the housing accommodations application at academics.umw.edu/disability/accommodations/housing-accommodations.

Multicultural Student Affairs

The University of Mary Washington continually and actively seeks cultural diversity in its faculty and staff, students, curriculum, and activities. The James Farmer Multicultural Center, named after the prominent civil rights leader who taught at UMW, specifically focuses on the academic and social well-being of underrepresented students through programming, mentoring, and leadership opportunities. The center offers a variety of cultural programming including the highly respected Cultural Awareness Series. The series culminates with the spring Multicultural Fair, which attracts huge crowds to campus.

Spiritual Wellness Resources

As a public institution, the University of Mary Washington does not have a denominational affiliation. We know that religious traditions are important to many students and encourage students to explore the campus ministries and student organizations listed here:

Sports

Division III Athletics

The University of Mary Washington sponsors 19 varsity sports and is a proud member of NCAA Division III. In addition, the Department of Athletics oversees the team sports of men's and women's rugby, as well as esports. In all, more than 500 student-athletes participate on our teams. Division III is the purest form of intercollegiate athletics, where the focus is academics first. As a result, retention and graduation rates for varsity student-athletes are higher than those of the overall student body. Leadership, teamwork, goal-setting, and overcoming adversity are taught every day at our fields, courts, pool, and track.

Campus Recreation and Sport Clubs

Campus Recreation facilities can be found in and around Goolrick Hall and the fitness center, located at the Eagle Village end of campus.

UMW sport clubs are student-run organizations that are open to all full-time University of Mary Washington students, regardless of skill level. The clubs are advised by the Department of Campus Recreation and are designed to provide recreational, instructional, and competitive opportunities for students. Whether recreational or competitive, there's a UMW sport club for everyone. For the current listing of clubs, practices, and contacts, visit students.umw.edu/campusrec/sportclubs.

The intramural sports program at UMW allows students the opportunity to compete against their peers in a friendly and structured environment. Campus Recreation emphasizes spirited play, sportsmanship, and fun. Intramural sports are easy to join and easy to play. For more information visit students.umw.edu/campusrec/imsports.

Sport clubs are a great way to stay active and involved in the UMW community without the time commitment necessary for varsity athletics. Clubs are student-run, practice two or three times per week, and compete a minimum of three times per year.

Campus Public Safety

Police Department

The police force serves 24 hours a day all year, including holidays and breaks. The UMW Police Department (UMW PD) is a full-service accredited law enforcement agency with a range of programs from Adopt-A-Hall, which offers crime prevention tips and personal security seminars, to free licensed Rape Aggression Defense (RAD) courses. The UMW PD also operates an on-campus safety escort in the evenings, and students may request a ride from outlying parking areas or an escort to their residence hall.

Emergency Management

The University of Mary Washington has an emergency management office. UMW has fire detection and alarm systems in all buildings. Smoke detectors are in the hallways, stairwells, and rooms of residence halls. Each hall has three fire drills each semester to ensure that everyone knows how to be safe during a fire emergency. Fire safety violations such as false alarms or tampering with fire extinguishers are taken very seriously and may result in suspension or loss of housing privileges in addition to responsibility for the cost of damage.

The emergency notification system, known as UMW Alerts, is not automatically assigned to you. Please make sure that you are signed up for this service so that you can receive up to date directions in the event of a campus emergency. getrave.com/login/umw

Emergency Management stresses the importance of students having good family contact information.

Rave Guardian

Please encourage your student to use the Rave Guardian safety app for cellphones. It is free and UMW specific and can be downloaded from the UMW site or from the Google app. Rave Guardian improves safety for students on campus by providing a higher level of communication with campus safety and with friends or family they designate as guardians.

The app lets users set a safety timer session. When it's active:

- Guardians in their virtual safety network can monitor the user's status updates and location.
- Guardians are automatically notified at assigned check-in times.
- If the timer expires or the user initiates a panic call, Rave Guardian automatically notifies trusted safety resources.

Students can create a safety profile containing such details as residence and medical condition information that are automatically presented to campus safety officials during an emergency call.

Resources for Families

FERPA

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords students certain rights with respect to their education records. The University will not permit access to, or the release of, educational records without the consent of the student or eligible parent or legal guardian to anyone other than those permitted by law. One exception that permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill a professional responsibility. This office generally interprets “school official” to include professors; instructors; administrators; health staff; counselors; attorneys; clerical staff; trustees; and members of committees and disciplinary boards.

Postsecondary institutions may also disclose personally identifiable information from education records, without consent, to appropriate parties, including parents of an eligible student, in connection with a health or safety emergency, even if the parents do not claim the student as a dependent.

View more information on FERPA and education records at academics.umw.edu/registrar.

Notification of Parents/Guardians:

The dean of students will, to the extent allowed by federal law, contact the parents or guardians of students who are found responsible (through the judicial process) for a drug policy violation, or when the student has accumulated two minor alcohol violations.

How can I access my student’s financial aid information? When a student enters college, their financial aid information is considered protected information under FERPA (Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act). However, a student can designate online access to allow a parent to view their financial aid award, requirement status, and final semester grades. The sign-up is available through the UMW Banner SSB Portal. Instructions can be found at <http://www.umw.edu/financialaid> through the ‘Ferpa and Families’ tab.

Eagle Family Connection

Eagle Family Connection regularly communicates information to parents over email, including academic, residence life, course registration, and other critical student deadlines as well as other important updates and stories. Sign up to receive the Eagle Family Connection here.

Finances

Financial Aid

For more information regarding the topics below, and other financial aid options, visit our website at umw.edu/financialaid.

The Financial Aid office is in Lee Hall (second floor) and is open 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

How will my student be notified about their financial aid package? The Office of Financial Aid began sending the FAFSA Financial Aid Award letters in early December. Beginning May 1, students will be notified via their UMW email account of new awards and adjustments to their financial aid award. If your student completed the FAFSA, but has not received an award letter, please feel free to contact our office at 540-654-2468 or via email at finaid@umw.edu.

My student or I made a mistake on the FAFSA and have updated the information. Will this change my student's financial aid eligibility? Possibly. Need-based financial aid is based on information in the FAFSA. An update can affect the amount of financial aid you receive. Also, if a financial aid representative finds that the FAFSA has incorrect information, they will correct that information, which could result in a change in financial aid eligibility. Any time a change is made to your student's financial aid package, the student will be notified through their UMW email account.

What are the costs for 2022-23? Estimated costs for 2022-23 can be found online at umw.edu/studentaccounts.

How do I receive future updates or notifications about financial aid? The University of Mary Washington believes the most efficient way to communicate to students is through electronic means (email and website) to provide required notifications. We encourage the student to consent to this form of communication, however this is a voluntary selection.

If the student prefers to receive financial aid notifications, including financial aid award letter, printed and mailed to their home address, they may opt out of electronic communications. For more information look at our website.

How do I apply for a federal Parent PLUS loan? Parents of dependent students can apply for this federal credit-based loan by completing the federal application at studentaid.gov and all associated requirements.

FAQS

How does my student apply for UMW scholarships?

Students interested in applying for scholarships should apply by May 15 annually for a chance to receive UMW Foundation and departmental scholarships. Students are encouraged to speak with their departments to determine the availability of scholarship funds for their major and departmental deadline dates each year. Students interested in applying should visit the UMW online scholarship manager website at umw.edu/scholar using their UMW Net ID and password.

What if my student's FAFSA does not accurately represent the family's financial situation?

There are certain situations (divorce, death of a family member, involuntary job loss, disaster, etc.) when the FAFSA will not accurately represent a family's financial situation. Students and families are encouraged to contact the Office of Financial Aid directly at 540-654-2468 or via email finaid@umw.edu to discuss the individual situation.

My student has received the financial aid award letter. What happens now?

If the student is not selected for FAFSA verification, the student should accept or decline the student loans in the UMW Banner SSB portal, complete loan documentation, and determine if the student needs to set up a payment plan, obtain a Parent PLUS loan, or arrange an alternative loan.

Students that were selected for the FAFSA verification process are notified via UMW email of any outstanding requirements. They can also view their financial aid requirements at any time through their UMW Banner portal. June 1 is the deadline to submit verification documents to ensure financial aid is applied to the fall student bill on time.

Student Employment on Campus

UMW has approximately 700 on-campus jobs available to students each year. Students can view and apply for open jobs through the myUMW Student Employment portal. Students looking to apply for jobs on campus should go to careers.umw.edu.

University Dining hires students for a variety of positions each year. Wages earned from University Dining do not affect student financial aid packages. To apply for a position go to umw.sodexomyway.com/contact/employment, or email dining@umw.edu.

Deliveries to Residential Students

Flowers

Parents or friends who wish to send arrangements to a residential student should have them delivered to the Office of Residence Life (Marye House). The street address is: 1301 College Ave., Fredericksburg, Va. 22401. Staff members will notify the student, who can pick up the flowers from the office in Marye House. Delivery should be made Monday through Friday between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Florists will not deliver directly to the residence halls. Flowers that are being sent boxed from a web service such as 1-800-flowers should be sent to the student's UMW post office box.

Packages

Packages are not delivered to residence halls. UPS, FedEx, and other services deliver directly to the campus post office. When a package arrives for a student, the campus post office will notify the recipient by email.

The unique delivery system allows you to include handwritten notes and ensures on-time notification and delivery. To learn more, visit umw.edu/parents.

Post Office

The campus post office is a full-service postal center. Each residential and off-campus student will be assigned a mailbox to be used for official mail from UMW and for personal mail, including packages and mail requiring a signature. They will keep the same mailbox as long as they reside on campus. Students at Eagle Landing will be assigned a box there. If they move off campus, they will be issued a new mailbox. Due to space limitations, each student shares an assigned mailbox.
