Appeal Procedure for Eligibility for In-State Tuition Charges

Code of Virginia Information

Section 23-7.4 of the Code of Virginia, as amended, governs eligibility for in-state tuition charges. As a part of the statute, Paragraph A of Section 23-7.4:3 provides as follows:

Each public institution of higher education shall establish an appeals process for those students who are aggrieved by decisions regarding eligibility for in-state or reduced tuition charges pursuant to Sections 23-7.4 and 23-7.4:2. The Administrative Process Act (Section 9-6.14:1 et seq.) shall not apply to these administrative reviews. An initial determination shall be made. Each appeals process shall include an intermediate review of the initial determination and a final administrative review. The final administrative decision shall be in writing. A copy of this decision shall be sent to the student. Either the intermediate review or the final administrative review shall be conducted by an appeals committee consisting of an odd number of members. No person who serves at one level of this appeals process shall be eligible to serve at any other level of this review. All such due process procedures shall be in writing and shall include time limitations in order to provide for orderly and timely resolutions of all disputes. Any party aggrieved by a final administrative decision shall have the right to review in the circuit court for the jurisdiction in which the relevant institution is located. A petition for review of the final administrative decision shall be filed within thirty days of receiving the written decision. In any such action, the institution shall forward the record to the court, whose function shall be only to determine whether the decision reached by the institution could reasonably be said, on the basis of the record, not to be arbitrary, capricious or otherwise contrary to law.

A complete copy of Section 23-7.4 of the Code of Virginia is on file and available for review in the Reserve Section of Simpson Library. Information is also available online at the State Council for Higher Education in Virginia web site: www.schev.edu. Search using the keyword "domicile." At Mary Washington, the initial determination of eligibility for in-state tuition charges will be made on the basis of the information provided on the Virginia In-State Tuition Form, which has been completed by the applicant or, if appropriate, by the applicant and the applicant's parent or legal guardian. The initial determination is made at the time the application for undergraduate, graduate or nondegree course study is processed. If the information provided does not support the applicant's claim of eligibility for in-state tuition charges, the applicant will be classified as a non-Virginian, and notification of such decision will be made within ten (10) working days from the date the processing of the application is completed.

If the student or, where appropriate, the parent/legal guardian has additional information to support a claim of eligibility for in-state tuition charges, the student/parent/legal guardian must complete the Supplemental Application for Virginia In-State Tuition Rates, which can be found on the University web site: www.umw.edu. Search using the keywords "Student Accounts" and select "Forms" for a link to the Supplemental Application. The completed application with appropriate supporting documents should be forwarded to the chair of the Virginia In-State Tuition Committee, George Washington Hall, Room 111, University of Mary Washington, 1301 College Avenue, Fredericksburg, Virginia 22401-5300. All supporting materials must be received by the committee chair before action can be taken at the intermediate level.

The University of Mary Washington's Virginia In-State Tuition Committee has three members: 1) the chair, who is the Vice President for Administration and Finance, 2) the Associate Provost for Academic Affairs, and 3) the Registrar. After all supporting materials are received, the committee will review the information and render a decision within fifteen (15) working days. The decision of the committee will be in writing and will be sent to the student.

The student has fifteen (15) working days to appeal the intermediate decision for a final administrative review. All supporting information which was not previously submitted to the Virginia In-State Tuition Committee shall be forwarded to the President's Office, George Washington Hall, University of Mary Washington, 1301 College Avenue, Fredericksburg, Virginia 22401-5300. The President's Special Advisor will render a decision on the appeal within fifteen (15) working days, and notice of this decision will be made in writing to the student.

Any student currently enrolled at Mary Washington who wishes to seek a change of status of eligibility for in-state tuition charges must complete the Supplemental Application for Virginia In-State Tuition Rates and follow the appeals process outlined above for the intermediate administrative review.

It should be noted that at every stage of the process, it is the responsibility of the student/parent/legal guardian to provide clear and convincing evidence of the claim. Clear and convincing evidence does not mean proof beyond a reasonable doubt as required in a court of law. However, it does mean that the evidence presented must conclusively support and justify the claim for eligibility for in-state status.

Should the student/parent/legal guardian wish to pursue further appeal after the final administrative review has been completed by the University, the appeal must follow the provisions in the Code of Virginia and must be made to the presiding judge of the 15th Judicial Circuit Court, 701 Princess Anne Street, Suite 100, Fredericksburg, Virginia 22401.

University of Mary Washington scholarships are awarded based on the amount of tuition you pay as an in state or out of state student. You may see a decrease, or possible rescission, of your scholarships if your tuition status changes. If your residency appeal is approved, your account charges will be adjusted accordingly. If you have questions regarding changes to your Financial Aid Packages, you may call the Office of Financial Aid at 540-654-2468. If you have questions regarding your bill, please call 540-654-1250.
